

Unabashed Consent Statements for Attendance

release statement

By clicking the required checkbox and claiming ticket(s) to Unabashed, I certify that I am 18 years of age or older. I release Studio Friction and Unabashed from responsibility for any damage to person or property that results from the event workshops, play parties, or event property.

COVID-19 statement

By clicking the required checkbox and claiming ticket(s) to Unabashed, I certify that I am either:

vaccinated, with proof of vaccination brought to registration, or in possession of a valid doctor's note saying that I cannot have the vaccine for medical reasons, with proof brought to registration.

If I have an exception, I agree to wear a mask for the duration of the con, excluding the space outside the building.

I also agree, regardless of vaccination status, to wear a mask for the duration of the con if the CDC recommends wearing a mask indoors.

I also agree that I will provide proof of a negative COVID test dated within three days of the con's start on October 1st.

If I have a positive test result within two weeks of the con, up to and including the con's start date, I will not attend.

If I am awaiting test results at the time of the con, I will not attend until I receive a negative test result.

If COVID is resurging and we can't gather per CDC or Colorado state guidelines, Unabashed will refund 50% of your ticket cost and move the conference sessions online, including a digital play space and party. Unabashed also reserves the right to move the conference online at its own discretion.

Unabashed is not responsible for any travel costs incurred if the event is moved online.

I understand that failing to follow mandated health orders or event policies will result in expulsion from the event with no refund.

anti-oppression statement

By clicking the required checkbox and claiming ticket(s) to Unabashed, I certify that I understand that transphobia, racism, homophobia, sexism, misogyny, fatphobia, ableism, and other forms of oppression will not be tolerated at the convention. I consent to Unabashed and its designated representatives attempting to resolve any instances through conversation with either the person/people who have been harmed, if I have done harm, or the person/people who have caused harm, if I have been harmed. If the instance proves unresolvable, I understand that I or the person who has caused harm will be asked to leave the event without refund.
